Cream Pot Bridge update- Pete Neff has told us we are next in the queue barring any further emergencies

New Business-

Giovanni Zinn, New Haven town engineer and trail builder has agreed to visit our path and consult on safety concerns we have in two particular spots - notably the walk through town on sidewalks and the parking lot behind Town Hall.

Raised funds were reported and Carrie asks for someone to step in as treasurer. No motions were made as we were missing two vital BPAC members. Ginnie brought up the need for new members. Hal offered to write a letter to the editor and Mark suggested we ask Maureen to put out a plea on BPAC's FB page. Discussion is held on changing our meeting Wednesdays to the 4th of the month to accommodate Maureen's schedule but we must hear from Paul first.

The new Clinton Sustainability Committee is discussed. Hal has read about it.

The next referendum is discussed and voting is encouraged.

Hal asked about future greenway events and those will be discussed once final trail building plans are made.

Hal motions to adjourn, Mark seconds and all agree to close the meeting at 7:45 p.m.
