

Section 4

Application Requirements, Procedures and Decision Process

- 4.1 Purpose: The purpose of this Section is to provide a thorough explanation of the permit process, including pre-application procedures, information needed for a complete application, formal application procedures, decision making process and post approval requirements. Some uses require additional review processes and information. That is explained in the sub-sections that are pertinent.

This Section also provides the applicant with procedures that are recommended and procedures that are required. This Section covers applications to the Zoning Board of Appeals (herein after “Board”), the Planning and Zoning Commission (herein after “Commission”), and the Design Review Board (herein after “DRB”).

The applications to the Commission are Site Plans (SP) and Special Exceptions (SE) as noted in Section 27 of these Regulations.

The applications to the Board are for Variances, Certificates of Approval of Location as required by the Connecticut General Statutes, and appeals of the decision of the ZEO.

The applications to the DRB include all new construction except single family homes unless located in a Village Zone, all projects to be reviewed by the Board or Commission which have changes to the façade of the existing structures, and all signs.

- 4.2 Pre-Application Conference - Recommended for all Applications: It is strongly recommended that the applicant request one or more pre-application conference(s) with Land Use Staff to discuss conceptual aspects of the proposed project. The pre-application conference is recommended to allow the general identification of factors and issues affecting the development of the subject site before the applicant proceeds with the application and the preparation of plans and documents for a Preliminary Review or formal submission of the application.

Proceeding without such a conference increases the likelihood of longer formal review times or denials based on insufficient information necessary for the Board or Commission to make an informed decision. No comments made during the pre-application conference with staff shall be deemed to substitute for any portion of the application or to be construed as a decision, prejudgment, or determination concerning the ultimate formal application.

No fee is required for a Pre-Application Conference.

- 4.3 Preliminary Review - Recommended for all Applications to the Commission: Applicants are strongly encouraged to present a preliminary conceptual plan for review by the Commission, prior to incurring costs for detailed engineering and for such other reports and information as may be required. Experience has indicated that alternatives or changes recommended by the Commission may be made more readily and economically prior to extensive engineering work.

A preliminary plan will be reviewed with a clear understanding that preliminary plans enjoy no official status and that consensus with regard to feasibility of preliminary plans on the part of the Commission in no way implies approval of the formal application.

No fee is required for Preliminary Review.

4.4 Materials Required for Formal Submission of all Applications to the Commission or Board: Applicants should begin the process necessary to obtain the reports of the agencies identified below prior to submitting a formal application to the Commission and Board for all applications. The applicant shall submit the following information for all applications, except for Appeals to the Board of the decision of the ZEO. The applicant shall ensure that all reports shall be in writing and include the project title, date prepared, and latest revision date of the plans or reports reviewed. These agencies may require more time than anticipated and compliance with the codes, regulations or policies they enforce may dictate plan changes.

4.4.1 A report from the Fire Marshal with respect to compliance with applicable Fire Codes.

4.4.2 A report from the Director of Health, or the authorized agent, with respect to compliance of the design of the subsurface sewage disposal system with the State of Connecticut, Public Health Code, where applicable.

4.5 Referral to the Design Review Board (DRB) Mandatory: All applications for new construction, except single family homes unless they are located in a Village Zone, all projects to be reviewed by the Board or Commission which has changes to the façade of an existing structure(s), and all signs are required to be reviewed by the DRB. As a report from the DRB is required to be submitted to the Board, or Commission prior to the first Regular Monthly Meeting at which the Board or Commission may consider the application, it is recommended that prior to the submission of an application to the Board, Commission or ZEO, the following steps should be taken:

4.5.1 Preliminary DRB Review Meeting - Recommended: It is recommended that the following is initiated at least three months prior to formal application to the Board, Commission or ZEO.

(a) At the earliest point in the design process, the applicant should meet with the Land Use Staff, obtain the Design Review Regulations and Recommended Guidelines, and schedule a preliminary review with the DRB.

- (b) At the Preliminary DRB Review Meeting, the DRB will review the proposed design and discuss any design modifications that may be necessary in order for the development to better conform to the criteria and guidelines.
  - (c) Three (3) copies of the following information should be submitted at least seven (7) days prior to the preliminary review:
    - (1) Photographs of existing site conditions, including properties within five hundred feet (500'), or more if needed to show the character of the surrounding area.
      - (i) Photographs of the site should be taken from all approaches on streets or public ways and from the site towards relevant streetscapes and adjacent structures in order to understand the immediate surroundings of the project.
    - (2) Conceptual or schematic sketches of the proposed building plans, building elevations, and plans of proposed site developments, demonstrating an understanding of the design compatible with the surrounding area.
    - (3) Historical information where appropriate, such as old photographs, etc.
  - (d) At the conclusion of the Preliminary DRB Review Meeting, the DRB will determine if additional meetings are recommended before plans are ready for submission for the final review meeting of the DRB.
- 4.5.2 Subsequent DRB Review Meetings: It is recommended that this be done at least two months prior to submitting a formal application to the Board, Commission or ZEO, as determined by the DRB, at the Preliminary Review Meeting.
- (a) Materials requested at subsequent meetings should include:

4.5.4 Report: Prior to the first Regular Monthly Meeting at which the referring agency or official may consider the application, the Design Review Board shall report to the referring agency or official, whether it has conducted a review of the project, and if it has done so, the evaluation and recommendations which it has made.

- (a) The DRB shall make recommendations which are consistent with specific standards or design criteria as set forth in the Clinton Zoning Regulations.
  - (b) The DRB report to the Board, Commission or ZEO is advisory but the Board, Commission or ZEO shall consider the DRB report prior to taking action on the application.
  - (c) Failure of the DRB to make a timely review and report shall eliminate the requirement of consideration of the DRB report prior to taking action, and shall not require a delay in the action on the application by the Commission, Board or ZEO.

4.6.3 In order to receive prompt consideration of an application, the complete application shall be submitted by the deadline prior to the next regular meeting date as set by resolution of the Commission to allow sufficient time for staff review for completeness. Applicants should confirm with the Land Use Staff the deadline set by the current resolution.
